Dear Dr. La Moine,

We want to thank you for your concern regarding Yapa's health before performing cataract surgery on both eyes last week. You waited until Yapa was in the best of health before performing the surgery. You definitely treated him like a fine piece of china and because of your care Yapa didn't chip, crack or break. Yapa can now see squirrels again to chase when he recovers completely, and will be able to find his toys that he flings and tosses when he's ready to start playing again. Unfortunately, those occasional shredded tissues in the waste paper basket we can do without. Yapa will now be able to live his life to the fullest.

Love,
Yapa

To All @ Internal Medicine Dept. 6/2010

We are extremely grateful to all the special veterinarians and medical staff in internal medicine. We brought Japa in with severe pancreatitis and the staff started treatment right away. We would also like to thank the medical staff that took care of him during his three day hospital stay. Japa received superior care from start to finish, and because of all the medical attention he received he was able to come home to a speedy recovery. The staff was extremely devoted and knowledgeable in caring for him.

Thanks for the expert care that he received, and because of that Japa is alive today, and living a healthy life. He had his cataract surgery on both eyes two months after his pancreatitis battle and is now healthy to chase squirrels and play with his toys. Japa will be living his life to the fullest because of all that took care of him.

Love, Japa  Sincerely,
The Love Family
